

AFRICAN STATISTICS DAY

Harnessing Information for Development

Powerful tool for sound decision making, Statistical information is a resource with value that can be traded and exploited; it has become as important for production as land and capital!

Today, no speech would be convincing to an audience if it is not enhanced by statistical information: percentages, averages, indices, etc.

18 November 1998

